Mexico City, March 26.—With strong federal reinforcements nearing Mazatlan from the south and the rebels who beleaguered that city reported falling back to the north, Gen. Plutarco Calles today concentrated upon his campaign against the rebels holding Jimenez in Chihuahua.

The war secretary announced from his new headquarters at Bermejillo, 60 miles north of Torreon, that his aviators were now terrorizing the rebel forces by dropping 90 pound TNT bombs of great destructive power.

He stated that the bombs were demoralizing the rebels in Jimenez. He declared his forces were now moving northward upon the city and would continue onward throughout the whole state of Chihuahua. He predicted little rebel opposition and the complete suppression of the revolt there "in a week."

Gen. Andres Figueroa reported a sharp clash between federal and insurgent forces at El Estero, Jalisco. He stated that 26 rebels were killed and 20 more captured in the encounter while the federal lost six dead and 15 wounded.

Lisbon, Mar. 26.—Thomas Cairns, residing on the Lincoln Highway, St. Clair township was fined three times in succession by Justice of the Peace M. K. Zimmerman, Lisbon, Monday afternoon.

Cairns was first given a hearing on a charge of assault and battery preferred against him by his wife, Nina Cairns.

He entered a plea of guilty, and was fined $25 and costs, and committed to the county jail until the fine and costs repaid.

After Mrs. Cairns filed the first charge against her husband she filed another charging him with the illegal possession of liquor, March 17. Cairns entered a plea of guilty to this charge and was fined $100 and costs.

In the meantime Sheriff W. J. Barlow filed an affidavit against Cairns for possessing implements for the manufacture of liquor, parts of a still and some liquor having been found on the premises of Cairns last Saturday.

Cairns then entered a plea of guilty to this charge, and was fined $100 and costs. In addition he agreed to pay Deputy Sheriff James F. Elliott compensation for the destruction of a suit of clothes, caused by the raid on his property Saturday.

After these three cases were disposed of against Cairns, A. B. McDonald, living on the Lincoln Highway in Liverpool township was given a hearing on a charge of possession, and after he entered a plea of guilty, was fined $400 and costs.

This is the second time McDonald has been fined at Lisbon for violating the liquor laws.

A lot of assorted liquors and 17 bottles of beer were found at the McDonald house when he was raided by Sheriff Barlow and Deputies George Harroff and Gomer Lewis last Friday night. McDonald was committed to jail in default of payment of fine.

DAMASCUS MAN DIES FOLLOWING AUTO ACCIDENT

Thomas Ford, 79, Steps
In Path of Machine;
Dies Instantly

WAS PIONEER IN COLUMBIANA CO.

Life Resident of County;
Was Born In Lisbon;
Well Known

Damascus, March 26.—Thomas Ford, colored, 79, pioneer Damascus blacksmith and wagon-maker, was almost instantly killed, when he stepped into the path of an automobile containing a group of Damascus High school students, enroute to a party, at a home east of here, about 7:30 last night.

The machine, operated by Edson Pelley, Damascus, was headed east. Ford started across Main st., apparently to go to his workshop, situated in the rear of his home on the same street, and stepped directly into the path of the oncoming automobile.

Ford is said to be near-sighted, accounting for his failure to see Pelley's car. Ford failed to see the man until after the accident, according to a report.

Ford was rushed into a home, but was dead upon the arrival of a doctor. The body was taken to Arbaugh's funeral home, Salem.

Cornier J. M. Van Fossan, of Columbiana county, was notified of the accident, late Monday night, and rendered a verdict of accidental death. The accident occurred in this county.

Ford was born in Lisbon in 1850, and at the age of four years, moved to Damascus.

For more than 50 years he had operated a small workshop in the village, manufacturing farm wagons and working as blacksmith.

He is survived by two brothers, Ben of Garfield, and Richard, Alliance, and one sister, Martha, of the Lima State hospital.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 3 p. m. at the Damascus M. E. church. Rev. C. F. Rothel will officiate. Burial in Damascus.

SPANISH FLIERS SPAN ATLANTIC; LAND IN BRAZIL

Weather Conditions Said

Air Voyage

BULLETIN
London, March 26.—Although they succeeded in making a trans-Atlantic, non-stop flight from Seville, Spain, to Brazil, Capt. Francisco Jimenez and Capt. Ignacio Iglesias were forced to land at Bahia, approximately 500 miles north of Rio de Janeiro, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rio this afternoon.

London, March 26.—The Spanish fliers, Francisco Jimenez and Ignacio Iglesias, successfully spanned the South Atlantic in their flight from Seville, Spain, when they passed over Natal, Brazil, at 2:35 a. m. today and continued southward towards Rio de Janeiro, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from the latter city.

An earlier Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rio de Janeiro had stated that the fliers had made a landing at Natal before continuing south.

DRY RAIDERS KILL WOMAN

Father Clubbed, Mother
Slain by Officers Raiding Home

Aurora, Ill., March 26.—A flat charge that Mrs. Lillian De King, 48-year-old mother, was shot down and killed in her home while she was trying to telephone to her attorney for help, A. Milroy, former assistant United States district attorney, and counsel for the De King family.

That version of the killing was verified, Milroy stated, by Gerald De King, 12-year-old son of the slain woman, and the only witness capable, at this time, of telling the story of the dry raid, the shooting and the clubbing of De King, who is in a hospital unconscious after the butt of a shotgun had crashed over his head.

Milroy flatly contradicted the statement of dry officers that Mrs. De King was killed when she seized a weapon and tried to fire upon the men, according to their story.

Milroy said Mrs. De King was talking to him over the telephone a few minutes after the raiders alleged to have broken into the home and he heard her cry: "My God!" simultaneously with the sound of a shot. Milroy said the wire went "dead" and he rushed to the home to find it empty.

The youth who saw his mother dying on the floor and his father unconscious, grabbed a revolver from the father's outstretched hand and shot one of the raiders in the leg. He verified the story of the former federal prosecutor.

Both versions of the raid are to be told today at an inquest.

On Ohio Crabbe Act

Youngstown, O., March 26.—This city's legal bootleg war promised to continue indefinitely today when Attorney Nathan Kaufman served notice on officers of the vice squad that he would fight any attempt to prosecute his clients under the Crabbe act.

This declaration followed Judge Peter J. Mulholland's action in throwing out of court the charges against more than 22 persons held under the city liquor ordinance, which has been declared unconstitutional. The prisoners were released from jail. Two of the 22 were rearrested last night by order of Assistant Police Chief Englehart.

Calvin Coolidge May Enter Senatorial Race Next Year

Former President Would Follow Precedent Set By John Adams One Hundred Years Ago;
Claim Groundwork Started

Washington, March 26.—Senator Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts' Political Washington heard with undisguised interest today that the former president is looking not unkindly upon a movement begun by some of his Massachusetts friends to send him to the United States senate next year.

Should such a thing eventuate, Mr. Coolidge would be following the example set by another distinguished Bay State president, John Adams, who 100 years ago retired from the presidency and then returned to Washington as a member of congress.

The political groundwork in Mr. Coolidge's case is already being prepared, according to word reaching political circles here.

It is in the hands of ex-Senator Wm. M. Butler, who managed the Coolidge campaign in 1924, and Frank W. Stearns, who through out Mr. Coolidge's occupancy of the White House was his political shadow, coming and going almost as a member of the family.

Presumably this groundwork is being prepared with Mr. Coolidge's tacit consent, for if he did not regard the project with some favor he could stop it with a word. Thus far there has been no such word.

The senate seat in question is now occupied by Senator Frederick Gillett, who is approaching his 78th year, and who by the 1930 campaign would be getting close to 80. Senator Gillett is not expected to be a candidate to succeed himself.

However, there is another candidate in the picture in the person of the militant ex-governor of Massachusetts, Alvan T. Fuller, who has just laid down the governorship at the age of 51. He is independently wealthy, and desires to engage in further public service.

He was a luncheon guest of President Hoover's last week end and told friends here that he was inclined to run for the senate next year.

Fuller is highly regarded by the Hoover administration, for in those anxious pre-convention days when ex-Senator Butler and Stearns were endeavoring to keep Massachusetts in the picture of the "danger day" of the bombing of the home of James Kunkin, of Brookline, near Bridgeport, Kunkin tried unsuccessfully to persuade the union to accept a compromise wage agreement 18 months ago that would have avoided the disruption of union forces in Ohio.

Belmont county authorities late yesterday afternoon posted a $1,000 reward for the conviction of the dynamiters of the Kunkin home.

Col. Wade H. Christy, assistant adjutant general of Ohio, was sent here from Columbus as a result of the "outrage."

U. S. Marshal Stanley Borthwick is also in the coal fields near here today.

Marshall Borthwick, before leaving Columbus, said that he was simply "making an inspection" of the coal fields "to let them know" he was still on the job.

Officials Are Present
The presence of these two officials in the coal fields, indicates that authorities are expecting trouble. Col. Christy has the resources of the Ohio National guard at his command, and Marshal Borthwick has the power of the federal government behind him.

It was pointed out that the temporary wage scale agreement terminates at midnight March 31, and it is believed that the state and federal officials embarked to the coal fields a week ahead of time, so as to arouse undue discussion later.

Mention was made in the foregoing of the passage of the union in the coal fields here formerly, but not a fourth of that number could be found in them today.

When brought before Judge George A. Starn here yesterday afternoon, Elias was sentenced to serve 20 years in the Ohio state penitentiary and Arthur was given an indeterminate sentence in the state reformatory at Mansfield.

Elias is now 63 years old and the prospect of serving the remainder of his life in jail faces him.

His son, Arthur, is 17. They were sentenced after Judge Starn overruled their motion for a new trial. The judge also refused to grant them a stay of execution of sentence.

POLICE BELIEVE FOUR MURDERED IN RURAL HOME

Victims; Bodies Bear

FIRE IN HOUSE SAID INCENDIARY

Children Discover Blaze;
Coroner Conducting
Inquiry

Toledo, Mar. 26.—A verdict of murder and suicide was formally returned today by Coroner Frank Krefl in the deaths of Mrs. Gaylord Steger, 25, and her three small children, in their modest cottage home, near Maumee yesterday.

Toledo, O., March 26.—What is believed to be a murder of a 25-year-old mother and her three small children was being investigated by police here today.

The bodies of Mrs. Gaylord Steger, and Gaylord, Jr., 5, Howard, 4, and Rose Marie, 1, were found in their cottage home near Maumee late yesterday after fire had swept the dwelling.

All of the bodies gave evidence of violence, which led police to believe the four were victims of murder.

Mrs. Steger's body had finger marks at the throat, Gaylord's bore bruises about the head, and Howard's had two deep cuts above the right eye. The clothing of the baby girl appeared as though it had been saturated with kerosene.

Coroner Frank G. Krefl, who has withheld his verdict pending an investigation by county authorities, supplied the foregoing information.

Declaring it one of the most puzzling mysteries he has run across, the coroner stated that he thought that fire had been set to the home after the people had been murdered in hopes of concealing the fact of the slayings.

The fire was discovered about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, by some school children.

They called the driver of the school bus, in which they had ridden home, and he sought to enter the dwelling. All of the windows and doors were locked, and after succeeding in battering down the front door, the man was unable to enter because of the dense smoke.

The father of the family, Gaylord, Sr., returned home a few minutes after the fire had been brought under control. He was restrained from entering the dwelling until the coroner had arrived.

He told authorities that he had been away all afternoon helping a trader in a nearby town who was selling horses.

Police plan a rigid probe today.

APPLICATION FOR SALE DENIED TO P. L. & W. FIRM

Construction of Route to Steel Mills from River,
Was Plan

OPPOSED BY OTHER RAILROADS IN AREA

New Line Would Have Passed Through East
End of County

The application of the Pittsburgh, Lisbon and Western Railroad company for authority to construct branch lines providing rail transportation between the Youngstown steel district and the Ohio river was denied today by the interstate commerce commission at Washington as not being in the public interest.

At the same time, an application of the Montour railroad, owned by the Pittsburgh Coal company, seeking to acquire the P. L. and W. by purchase of capital stock, was also denied on the same grounds, by the commission.

The commission's action in denying both requests kills the proposed construction of railroad extensions between steel manufacturing centers of this state and Smith's Ferry, Pa.

Coal Company Sponsors
The Pittsburgh Coal company was sponsoring the negotiations, hoping, through the new railroad lines, to create a direct route between the Ohio river and the steel district and thereby cheapen freight rates on coal from the Pennsylvania mines to the steel district.

The contemplated project contained the proposal that extensions be built to run through the eastern part of Columbiana county, near East Palestine. This would give the coal company a direct line from Smith's Ferry, situated on the Ohio, to Struthers and Youngstown, and other steel districts.

An entirely new railroad line was to have been built. Coal would be sent up the Ohio in barges, to Smith's Ferry where it would be placed on the Great route.

The plan was opposed by the Pennsylvania, Erie, New York Central and other trunk lines, on the ground that it would injure their business interests.

GRASS FIRES IN CITY ARE MANY

Fire Laddies Miss Lunch
While Battling Four Field Blazes

Salem firemen, answering three alarms in less than three hours, and four all day, had one of the busiest times of the year, Monday, when they were called to extinguish four grass fires in the city.

The fires were not serious, Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy reports.

The first alarm was sent in at 10:44 a. m. when grass in a field on Roosevelt ave. was reported on fire. The fire-fighters returned to their quarters after a 15-minute battle with the flames, just in time to go out for another excursion out to another grass conflagration.

This one occurred on Green st. The alarm being received at 11:14. The fire was extinguished in a short time, but no firemen went to lunch at noon as a third call was received from Ellsworth st. residents, where another field was aflame.

The laddies, armed with the usual implements of grass fire warfare—broom, shovel and chemicals—extinguished the fire, and for six hours were permitted to rest. At 6:40 the final call was sent in from Eighth st. Another small grass fire which amounted to nothing.

"Seventy cents," Fire Chief Malloy reports as the total damage in the four calls.

With Jupiter Pluvius reigning supreme today, grass fires were out of question, and the safety guardians were able to settle back for a period of leisure.

WIFE CHARGED WITH MURDER

Woman Faces Penalty For Crime;
Police Claim Chloroform Was Used In Act

Hartford, Conn., March 26.—Mrs. Olive Adams faced a murder charge today as a result of the death on Sunday of her husband, Harry E. Adams, meteorologist in charge of the local weather bureau. Mrs. Adams' arrest followed the signing of a reputed confession in which, police say, the woman admitted "finishing him."

Mrs. Adams, the police allege, killed her husband with chloroform. The meteorologist had been in the habit of using a few drops of the anaesthetic on a handkerchief to induce sleep. On Sunday night, the authorities maintain, Mrs. Adams saturated the handkerchief with chloroform instead of putting in the customary few drops.

The weather man's infidelity is given by the police as the motive for the crime.

MECHANICAL MARVELS

The human element is responsible for most of the accidents that occur where machinery and the human element are working in co-operation. It is the driver of the car who is weak and not the steering mechanism; it is the tower operator and not the switches that cause railroad accidents.

A large portion of the efforts of humanity to perfect its operations to produce efficiency has been directed toward elimination of the human element wherever possible and toward the perfection and limitation of that element in cases where it is necessary. Progress was slow at first, but the effect of invention is cumulative and a point of progress has been reached where it is almost impossible to comprehend what is being done.

Electricity and the result of complete knowledge of the phenomena of electricity, the radio, have been mighty factors in this progress. Radio-activity has made possible the remote control of moving mechanisms, and has diminished to an irreducible minimum the human element. Electric railways, operated by remote control, are in practical everyday use. Automobiles have been operated by means of the radio. It would, probably, be impossible to exaggerate the possibilities of this power gained through knowledge of phenomena which have so recently been discovered and already so widely turned to human advancement.

It is conceivable that, at some future date, all work will be done by machinery and the profits all reaped by those who control the machines. We shall then be a civilization of slave owners whose slaves will demand nothing more than machine oil and replacement parts. Economists look forward to this condition as the desired result of all social enterprise. There will be money enough for everyone and there will be a minimum of work.

A striking example of the efficiency of remote control, as applied to transportation, is seen in an Ohio stone quarry. A car is loaded with stone at the quarry and is sent over a mile and a half of track to the crusher by human operatives in three towers at intervals along the line of way. Everything is done by electricity even to the extent of making accidents impossible by an intricate system of electrical devices. The saving is enormous: 12 electric cars do the work that was formerly done by 4 steam locomotives and 4 ten-car trains. Besides the increased safety and lower operating expense, there is an increase of 10 per cent in production. If this were not enough, an electrical device records the number of loads and the tonnage dumped into the crusher.

The ultimate goal—a period of complete mechanization—may not be reached for centuries. A glance backward over the distance that mankind has traveled, however, will convince the most skeptical observer that an Utopia made possible by machinery is a possibility.

What Others Say

"MR. CAPONE GATHERS ROSES"

In the more primitive days the bootleggers were content to prove their satisfactory solvency by being the best customers for grand pianos and opera boxes; but those were primitive days of simple living. Observe Alphonse Capone in Florida. His little shack in Miami would fill the eye even of a sophisticated resident of Hollywood or Long Island. He was attracted by the beauties of the Bahamas and picked up 500 acres. His plane takes off from his back door in Miami and carries him to liberties under the British flag. On his Sabine farm he enjoys the best of life, which must be a spiritual relief for a gentleman so extensively acquainted with the profitable restraints of Volstead, and in a mellow and virtuous mood he and his friends can be back home for dinner, legally lit.

The life of a British gentleman eventually may weaken his loyalty to the United States and he may expatriate himself for the permanent enjoyment of a life rounded out with blessings, although he must admit that America always has treated him handsomely. He has had most of the breaks and must regard his career as a success. Even the police attention is in a way flattering. Life has not held much out on Mr. Capone and he sees it the brightest days are still ahead.—Chicago Tribune.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE
JUICES BUILD HEALTHBY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

In these articles we frequently speak of the importance of taking orange juice, or giving it to infants. Frequently I am asked if there are any other juices that will make up for the deficiencies of the milk or other food?

DR. COPELAND

Tomato juice has the same properties as orange juice. It, too, contains the vitamin C. This, you will recall, is the agent that prevents or overcomes scurvy. Of course, I do not mean the old fashioned scurvy, although that too, was overcome by taking fruits and vegetables containing this substance.

In these modern days we insist on getting a full supply of Vitamin C. In order that we may escape bad teeth. Likewise, it gives us "pep" and energy, overcoming listlessness and laziness and indifference.

The juice of carrots or beets are much less valuable than orange juice, although they possess this particular vitamin. The juice of the Swedish turnip must not be overlooked, because it is practically equal to orange juice.

By giving the juices of these fruits and vegetables is the only way the baby can be supplied with the auxiliary food essential to its good. Of course, older children and adults can get it through the eating of tomatoes, carrots, cabbage, lettuce, spinach, turnips and other fresh vegetables and fruits.

It must be recalled that heat destroys this vitamin. Really, it is not so much the heat as it is exposure to the oxygen of the air. So in cooking these vegetables, they should be kept covered. The vitamins in acid fruit, like tomatoes are not affected by heat.

Unless there is a never failing supply of foods that carry vitamin C, there will be paleness of the skin, loss of appetite, loss of weight, or in a child, failure to develop physically. No doubt the rapid action of some debilitated persons may be traced to this defect in the diet.

There is a popular idea that certain foods are likely to bring on rheumatism or make it worse. One which is frequently referred to as unsuitable to take when there is a tendency to rheumatic complaints is the tomato. I disagree with this theory. In my opinion tomatoes, apples, oranges and similar fruits are helpful to the rheumatic patient and not harmful.

It is certainly true that nobody can expect to have good teeth without having the proper diet from infancy onward. The essential minerals and vitamins must be considered in taking food. It is not enough merely to satisfy the appetite.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, March 27

THIS day is favored by a strong combination of stellar forces for constructive effort in all avenues of human endeavor. The high stimulus to initiative and enterprise should be exercised in labor, industry, employment and in new undertakings of no mediocre importance. With well directed effort and with some precaution as to writings and contracts, all should prosper and be financially satisfactory.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of constructive effort and large initiative in important lines. Industry, labor, employment, finance, in fact old as well as new ventures should flourish. But be cautious in signing all papers and writings. A child born on this day may be clever, aggressive, enterprising and successful in almost anything it may engage in. It may be resourceful, courageous and capable of large things as well as hard work.

LIFE THREATS RECEIVED BY DAYTON JUDGE

Racial Feeling High As Negro Is Acquitted In Murder Case

Dayton, Mar. 26.—Racial feeling over the acquittal of Roy Freeman, negro, at the man's second trial for the murder of Motorcycle Patrolman William C. Horn, last September, was reported intense here.

Threats were made against Albert Harter, defense attorney, and Presiding Judge Charles Bell, Cincinnati, according to reports.

Freeman was recently found "not guilty" by a jury for the killing of Horn. Last October, Freeman was found guilty of the same charge, upon an alleged confession he had made, and sentenced to die. He was removed to the Ohio State penitentiary, where he occupied a cell in a "death row" for several months. A supreme court verdict, granting him a retrial saved him from paying the supreme verdict.

The negro was then returned here for a second trial and he was acquitted when the alleged confession was not allowed to be introduced as evidence.

At the time of the policeman's murder, murmurings of "lynching" were heard and Freeman was removed to another county jail for safe keeping.

The threats against the attorney and judge were made by both letters and later, it is said. Police are non-committal.

One of the reports declared that a man called Sharper on the phone and threatened to "blow up Sharper's home while his family was in it."

County Commissioners Order Survey For New Route

Lisbon, March 26.—Because certain property owners in the vicinity of Calcutta have filed damage claims totaling $9,114.75 a new route has been ordered surveyed by the county commissioners as a connecting link at Calcutta for the new East Liverpool-East Palestine inter-county highway.

This road will very likely be from east to west from the Calvin property and connect with the concrete section of the Sprucevale rd by the construction of a "Y" at that intersection.

When the various damage claims were totaled by the commissioners it was immediately determined to have a new route surveyed and thereby give motorists a straight road through Calcutta, with only one turn into the new section of the East Liverpool-East Palestine rd. Surveyors are to be put on this work at once.

The contract for surfacing the St. Clair township section of the East Liverpool-East Palestine rd. will probably not be let until Lewis & Copeland have completed the Middleton section from the Y & O subsection on the East Liverpool-Youngstown rd.

TEACHER HELD IN DEATH QUIZZ

Woman Dies In Home of Man; Analyze Candy

Hamilton, Ont., Mar. 26.—Chemical analysis of a piece of candy found clutched in a hand of Eva Coleman, 20, pretty Sunday school teacher, was made today while police held Harold Neice, mathematics instructor at Central Collegiate Institute, in whose apartment the girl died.

Neice told police today that the girl had come to his apartment and asked him to marry her. When he told her he was already married, Neice said, she took a piece of candy from her purse and started eating it. In a few minutes, he claimed, she stiffened and died.

Authorities expressed themselves today as not satisfied that Neice was not the owner of surgical instruments and pills found in his apartment, as he claimed.

A search through the mathematics instructor's apartment resulted in the discovery of a large portrait of the girl in a dresser drawer.

Neice lived alone in his apartment. He is said to have been separated from his wife for some time.

"I SHOULD HAVE HAD KONJOLA THREE YEARS AGO"

Man Well and Happy Because of This New Medicine Tells Of Quick Recovery

MR. ALVIN W. ZETTER

"I wish that all who are well might know what I do about Konjola," said Mr. Alvin W. Zetter, of Castalia, near Sandusky, Ohio. "I wish I had known of this master medicine three years ago, when I was stricken with a complication of stomach and liver troubles, and with constipation. I had unbearable headaches and dizzy spells, and my skin and eyes showed plainly that my liver was far from what it should be. After every meal I was a victim of gas and bloating, and bits of undigested food came up into my throat. I was totally discouraged and disheartened."

"When Konjola was recommended I had to laugh. But once I was persuaded to give Konjola a trial, I knew that I had at last found the right medicine, and I was sorry I had not tried it much sooner. Constipation was relieved almost overnight, and I was free from every ailment at the end of four weeks, during which time I took four bottles. What a relief it is to be able to be a healthy man again. I should have had Konjola three years ago."

Konjola is sold in Salem at J. H. Leach drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

BODY OF FOCH LAID IN TOMB

Idol of France In Last Resting Place With Other Heroes

Paris, Mar. 26.—Marshal Ferdinand Foch, idol of France, found eternal rest today within the shadow of the Sarcophagus of Napoleon, beneath the mighty gold dome of the Invalides.

Nations mourned while a solemn funeral service was held this morning in the ancient and historic cathedral of Notre Dame. This mourning was symbolized by the representatives who gathered at the cathedral from many countries, both far and near.

After the service the coffin containing the body was placed upon a gun carriage, after the fashion of military honors in death, and borne slowly through the streets to the Invalides while reverent crowds stood silent with bowed heads.

The funeral service at the cathedral was brief and simple in keeping with the simplicity of the dead. There was one regrettable incident that took place as the coffin was being carried from the cathedral to be placed upon a gun carriage.

The press of the mighty throng and the clatter of horses' hoofs as the troops got into formation, frightened three of the animals. One of them reared and threw his rider, who suffered a broken leg.

The plunging horse was immediately caught and subdued by other cavaliers.

BOY BASEBALL PLAYER HURT

Cornstalk Stub Enters Eye; Fear Brain Infection May Follow; Recovery Doubtful

Martins Ferry, O., March 26.—"One chance in a thousand to recover," is the way physicians at the hospital here describe the condition of James Breedlove, 15, following the first accident of the baseball season here.

While chasing a fly, the youth stepped into a hole and fell on a cornstalk stub that punctured his eyeball to a depth of three and one-half inches.

If he recovers, he will lose the sight of the eye. Surgeons fear infection of the brain.

Almost every town in Chile of 2,000 or more population uses electricity for light and power.

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over stimulated, and food sour. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as

ANTI-SMUGGLING REVISION MAY FOLLOW SINKING

Canada, England, France
May Lodge Protest
On Action

Washington, March 22.—Revision of the anti-smuggling treaties this country has with Great Britain and Canada with a tightening up of the British conception of international law may result from the sinking of the British auxiliary schooner I'm Alone by gunfire from the coast guard cutter Dexter last Friday in the Gulf of Mexico.

The British embassy admits the vessel was a notorious rum runner, but disagrees with the American treasury department over questions of international law covering the coast guard's contention of "hot and continuous" pursuit of the vessel before she was sunk more than 200 miles from the territorial waters of the United States.

That there will be a joint protest by Great Britain and Canada when an investigation is completed by British consular officers, appears to be taken for granted by the British embassy and the Canadian legation. The case is a Canadian one because the I'm Alone proved to be of Canadian registry, except for the fact that the French member of the crew who was drowned, was a naturalized British subject, it was said.

If a protest is made, it was said, several weeks must elapse before all the facts are in, and the protest will not be made until then.

Seiberling Tires Upset Dope And Nose Out Business College

Collegians Outplayed In Hectic Cage Dual; Second Game Tonight

Seiberling Tires, outplaying the Business College in all but the fourth quarter, drew first blood in the city championship series at Memorial gym last night, when they upset the dope and handed the collegians a 27-25 defeat.

The fracas, though hard fought, was less interesting than the final count indicates, the Seiberlings holding a wide edge throughout the first three sessions, and were ahead, 21-12, at the start of the final quarter. A let-up in the Tires' play permitted the college to add 13 counters to its point column in the last period.

It was the season's biggest surprise. The college was figured to win fairly handsly, but failed to run true to form.

Second Game Tonight

The teams clash tonight in the second battle of the series which may decide which aggregation has the right to the city championship title. Hughie "Phus" McPhee, one of Ohio's outstanding officials, will handle the whistle again. The battle will open promptly at 8 o'clock.

Rudy Kloos started the scoring in last night's event, nabbing a pass from Pete Sanders, and flipped in a crumple from under the hoop. The teams played around, waiting a chance to sneak the leather under the ring again, but both presented strong defenses that forced the players to bang at the bucket from around the center line. Les Older, playing in Max Caplan's lousy leave from the center, hooped in the first couple points for the college, and scoring for the remainder of the session went back and forth.

Score by periods:
Tires 7 14 21 27

The Seiberling's superiority in floorwork enabled them to come to the fore by a much larger margin in succeeding frames. The smooth passing offensive that clicked for points so consistently in past battles for the collegians was stopped in the embryo stage, and the team was almost helpless. Three points from the gratis stripe composed the college five's total in the second quarter, while the Seiberlings came through with seven points, to lead, 14-9, at the end of the half.

Before the third period seemed to have progressed very far, the Tires had edged still further ahead, and with two minutes remaining in the quarter, led 21-9. Fernengel's fielder and a foul by Older brought the college total to 12, at the close of the session.

College Threatens

It was in the fourth quarter that the college showed its only real basketball advantage of the Tires' failure to keep up its stellar display, the game gradually took on a different aspect. The College piled up point after point, while the Tires, a bit over confident, appeared satisfied to take things too easy.

The early lead was too much for the college lads, and the Tires making a momentary spurt, clinched the decision with another basket and a foul. A field basket and free throw by Ruggles in the last 30 seconds was of no avail.

Older Off

The whole Seiberling team concentrated its defense on Older, college satellite, with the result that "old faithful" was held to one field bucket. Glasgo's floorwork and exceptional ability to break up the college five's passwork was a feature of the game.

Older was the leading college performer, despite his failure to count his quota of points. Hann and Fernengel played classy ball.

A much closer struggle is expected when the teams meet this evening. If the Tires win, the series will be over, but a victory by the collegians will force a third fracas, which will be played Thursday night. Inclement weather failed to keep addicts from the game last night, and another record-breaking gate is looked for.

SCOUT COLUMN

Jack Bowling and Charles Gibson were received as new members at a meeting of Troop 31, Boy Scouts. This brings the membership up to 29. Two are associate members.

There were 27 members in attendance and five visitors. The meeting was in charge of Russell Jones and Dale Lepper. After the opening ceremonies a first aid demonstration was given.

A game was played and Scoutmaster Trisler gave a talk of interest to the troop. Yells were given, led by Cheer Leader Roth, and songs were sung.

It was announced that a new senior patrol leader will be elected at the next meeting and four boys were nominated for the position. Library books were secured and the meeting was closed with singing of taps.

Competition Ends With Few Salem Entries Up Among High-Score List

Sebring bowlers carried off both high score honors in the first annual tenpin bowling tournament, which closed at Jesse Schafer's recreation alleys Saturday night.

Tom Jones topped the maples for a 631 score in three games to force Joe Reese's 630 back into second place, and Jones, with Clegg, one of the district's best tenpin rollers, knocked off doubles honors with a total of 1211.

Clegg tallied 629 and Jones 582 in their doubles game. Oste and Crewson, also of Sebring, earned second high score doubles prize with a 1205 score. Reese's 630 score goes for second prize money in the singles, Clegg getting third with a 621.

The Sebring delegation easily outclassed most scores chalked up by Salem entrants. Salem showed up poorly. With the exception of Joe Reese's single game performance, Reese consistently tried to outdo Jones' mark, but fell short a couple pins everytime, but always managed to get passed the 200 mark. He was easily the best of the home-town topplers.

Jack Appears Strategic As Fight Promoter Dempsey Has Unusual Insight Into Demand For Fighters

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, March 26.—If he thinks a fight is worth no more than one million dollars, he will bid one million and no more. If Madison Square Garden thinks the same fight is worth one million, two dollars and fifty cents, Madison Square Garden can have the fight and also his very best wishes.

Undoubtedly, there are one or two gentlemen in this boxing racket who are slightly off their rocker, as it were, but neither of them is Jack Dempsey, the boy producer, and John proved it today when he quoted the general idea, expressed above, as his notion of how any promoter, with the sense of a reliable errand boy, should and must promote. Of course, the quoted idea represents only a free translation of the thought expressed. What he actually said was that he would give a million dollars for one million dollars' worth of fight and thirty dollars for any fight that might be worth no more than thirty cents.

Dempsey Talks Wisdom

"Too many promoters overplay their hands," said he, and no smarter word has passed his lips since that far off night in San Francisco when he looked Jack Kearns in the eye across a battered, discolored table and used a terse three-letter word, meaning yes. This fellow Dempsey is nobody's chump.

He is, as a matter of fact, a smarter man as a promoter than he was as a fighter. He says that he didn't obligate himself to Ray Miller for the Mandell fight, except in the event that Ray beat McLarnin last week, which Ray didn't. That was what you might call un-dumb business, since a Mandell-Miller probably wouldn't draw its own breath after what happened here in the McLarnin fight. Dempsey was smart enough yesterday, too, to cover up by signing Max Schmeling for a June fight through the German's dismissed but still legal manager, Arthur Bulow. All Dempsey was doing here was giving himself a break, in case one was coming to him. It was foresight such as this that made Rickard great.

Can't See Mistake

They say that Dempsey has made a mistake in tying up with Humbert of soup. You buy a fight the same as you buy anything else that strikes your fancy. If you feel that you aren't getting your money's worth, you put your money back in your pocket and forget about it. I repeat that too many promoters overplay their hands because they think they have to have a fight at any cost. Personally, I would not take it for a minute on those terms.

He didn't say so, and maybe he didn't mean it that way, either, but Dempsey gave the impression that he might have been talking from the pages of Rickard's lesson in the Tunney-Heene fight. Rickard in life was notorious for the fact that he bid as much for the distinction of holding a fight as for the money he hoped to make from it. In any case, that apparently isn't to Dempsey's way.

Columbus, O., March 26.—With the opening of the spring term of classes at Ohio State university today, the first call for football candidates for spring practice has been issued by Coach Sam Willaman. Practice will get under way Thursday, it was announced by athletic officials.

A turnout of from 50 to 75 hopefuls for the 1929 team is expected. All of last year's freshman team and all available members of the 1928 varsity, excepting the seniors have been invited out for the warm weather routine.

George Hauser, and Don Miller, Willaman's new assistants, together with "Swede" Oberlander, Charlie Seddon, Howard Yerges and the rest will be on hand to train the huskies in fundamentals.

At Philadelphia — Benny Bass,

Philadelphia featherweight, won decision over Harry Forbes of St. Louis 10 rounds.

At Erie, Pa.—Tug Phillips, Pittsburgh, won decision over Eddie Reed, Philadelphia, 10 rounds.

Heads Prison Squad

San Quentin Prison — Johnny Hawkins, former football star of the University of Southern California, is again to perform on the athletic field—this time as a leader of prison baseball.

And, contrasted with gay college crowds which hailed him on the gridiron, will be the cheers of convicts in a grim, four-walled arena.

"But I'm looking forward to it," smiled the stalwart Hawkins as he toiled, mentally, in the prison jute mill. "I am in the best of health and I'm going to use my time here as advantageously as possible."

To save the hands of users a rubber cover, easily removed, has been invented to hold mineral wool when used for scouring.

"THE WHITE SISTER"

Most noteworthy picture shown at the State theater in many months is the triumphant return to the screen of "The White Sister," first shown here several years ago.

Many of the screen's leading critics still consider this beautiful, artistic and soul-searching romance as Lillian Gish's greatest performance. It recently played a return engagement at the world-famous Capitol Theater in New York City, and the reviewers unanimously agreed that time has not dulled its highly dramatic qualities and that it can still be rated among the outstanding screen achievements, even in this day of big and unusual productions.

In "The White Sister" the ethereal little star who tugged at heart strings in such pictures as "The Birth of a Nation," "Broken Blossoms," "Orphans of the Storm" and "Way Down East," gives a performance which is incomparably the finest of her long and illustrious career.

Seven months were spent among the beautiful backgrounds of Italy and northern Africa in photographing the scenes, which include a magnificent view of the volcano

Vesuvius in actual eruption, a thrilling fight in the desert with the Arabs and an entire town submerged in an avalanche of water as a great reservoir bursts.

"The White Sister" will play its final engagement at the State Theater tonight.

"THE MAN WHO LAUGHS"

"The Man Who Laughs" at the Royal is a great story, the sweeping, passionate, unafraid kind that tells a dozen stories between two covers; the kind that isn't written any more because it is too much work that isn't even concocted in synopsis form because there isn't enough imagination in a whole scenario staff to conceive it. From such a great tale as Hugo wrote, Universal has derived a fair picture, which a great performance by Conrad Veidt and Paul Leni's customary wise direction have made into something worth attention.

"The Man Who Laughs" is the story of the breaking heart behind the laughing face, told with an immense compassion that transcends sentiment; a vitality that can sweep hundreds of people into its path and sweep them out again. It ranges from royal plots to the boulevard of a decadent duchess, and the carnival life of an old philosopher, a blind girl and a laughing man.

Based on the enormity of a man's permanent facial distortion, the false glamour of the seventeenth century England again which it is set. Grotesque in its romance, often narrowing down to a shocking realism, it seems sometimes of too superficial a strength for a camera to follow.

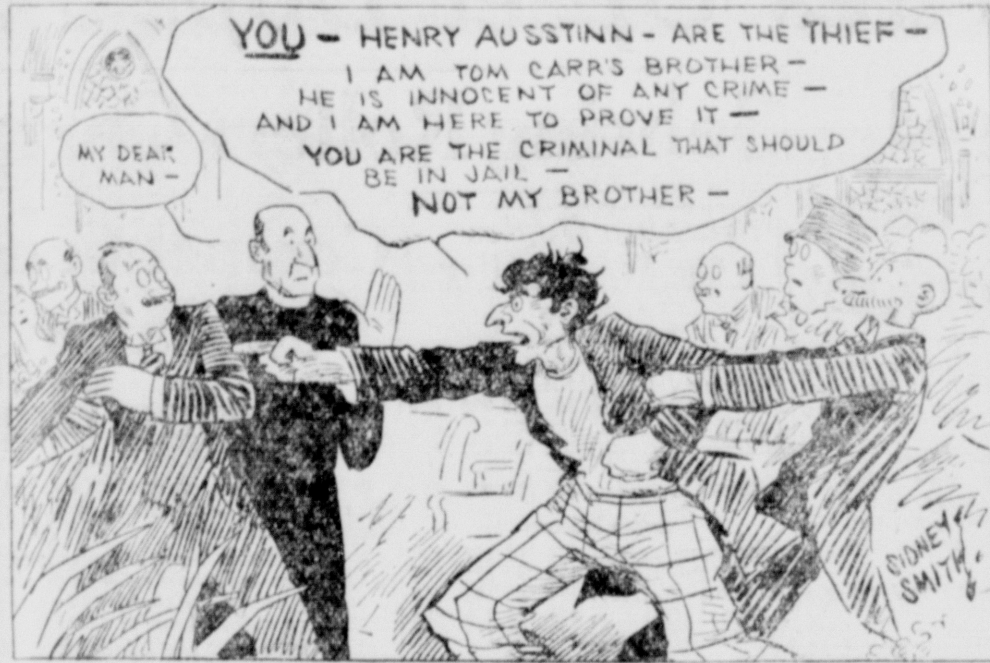

"AT THE GRAND"

Low Platt's Southern Collegians give an excellent musical program at the Grand, in conjunction with another fine bit of entertainment in the screen production, "The Dragnet."

Undoubtedly the orchestral item is the big feature of the season in Salem theaters. With four Salem lads in the outfit, the band plays the rhythmic jazz in style seldom heard here. The troupe features a fine trombonist, said to be one of the best in Ohio, clever dancers, and in its entirety, is of merit unequalled in musical menus hitherto brought here.

"The Dragnet" is one of the best put out by William Powell and George Bancroft. Betty Bronson has a fine role. It is an under-world narrative with a different, unusually different trend. Comedies and news features round out the excellent two and one-half hour program.

Now Is the Time to Start the Annual War Against Moths

Moths are insects which one has to fight before they arrive. Once you see them flying about—or even a single one, mischief has already been done. And all you can do is hunt up the garment that has been attacked, weep over the punctures, and get hold of a mending expert.

All this unpleasantness can be avoided by preparing your defense against moths far in advance. Don't wait for the warmest weather. By that time the baby worm may have hatched out of the egg, laid in a nice warm spot in your velvet dress by the flying moth. The little worm begins to feed at once, and also spins a little nest for itself out of the woolen or silky fabric, and the holes thus made are actually much larger than they seem at first glance. Poke your finger through one to get the full extent of the disaster.

Fight the moths before they appear. Early in the Spring, before the annual cleaning, is the time. What with the numerous labor-savers one can get so inexpensively nowadays, packing clothes against moth-attack isn't nearly the arduous job it used to be.

First of all, all articles—woolen, silks, furs, cloth of any kind, should be thoroughly cleaned. A vigorous brushing, is good, but a vacuum cleaning is better. If possible, hang the articles outdoors in brilliant sunshine. Remember that moths are small and the eggs practically invisible to the naked eye, so that even if a garment appears clean it may be a shelter to a moth family. A complete and strenuous brushing is the first step in insuring against a moth invasion. Without it, other later processes may not prove effective.

Next, pack the cleaned garment in a paper clothes bag, or fold in a newspaper. The paper you use doesn't matter. What is important, is to pin or seal the bag so thoroughly that there isn't a crack or hole or exposed seam that will let in anything from the outside.

Then place in a cedar chest, if you have one, or in a box with a liberal sprinkling of camphor or moth balls.

As a convenience, paste a label on every package marked with the contents. Then if you should happen to need one of these garments after it has been packed away, you won't have to open several before finding the right one—or succumb to the temptation of making a little hole in one package after another just for a peep—then leave the hole, and destroy all the good packing done so conscientiously.

Some of our modern apartments and homes now contain at least one cedar-lined closet that is a permanent protection against moths. Another substitute plan, is to obtain one of the portable clothing closets that can be left in some cool spot in the house. Line it with tar paper and hang in it the packed clothes that are to be stored for the winter. Such a closet can be kept permanently closed, and protects your clothes almost perfectly.

Incidentally rugs and carpets also require proper defense against insects, and they have a species of their own—the carpet beetle. C. "Buffalo bug" which is as fond of cotton as of rugs. Carpets and rugs require the same treatment—a thorough cleaning, packing and sealing, and storing in a cool place, in a strong aroma of camphor or moth balls. If you haven't the space for giving proper care to rugs or carpets, it's cheaper to store outside with a reliable commercial firm, than risk exposure of good rugs to moth-holes.

YOU CAN'T DYE with Good Intentions

You can get results—after a fashion—with any old dye; but to do work you are proud of takes real anilines. That's why we put them in Diamond Dyes. They contain from three to five times more than other dyes on the market! Cost more to make? Surely. But you get them for the same price as other dyes.

Next time you want to dye, try them. See how easy it is to use them. Then compare the results. Note the absence of that re-dyed look of streaking or spotting. See that they take none of the life out of the cloth. Observe how the colors keep their brilliance through wear and washing. Your dealer will refund your money if you don't agree Diamond Dyes are better dyes.

The white package of Diamond Dyes is the original "all-purpose" dye for any and every kind of material. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon or any mixture of materials. The blue package is a special dye, for silk or wool only. With it you can dye your valuable articles of silk or wool with results equal to the finest professional work. Remember this when you buy. The blue package dyes silk or wool only. The white package will dye every kind of goods, including silk and wool. Your dealer has both packages.

Her Hair Fairly SPARKLES Now!

The woman who knows what to do after waving her hair doesn't fear the effect of hot tons. Nor of frequent washings. A few drops of Danderine—on comb or towel—and the hair is soft and lustrous, and behaves beautifully.

A bit of Danderine rubbed lightly into the scalp, is the one sure way to dissolve every particle of dandruff. But a few drops more make a dressing that is simply marvelous. A sheen that rivals brilliantine, and no greater!

Any permanent wave or water wave lasts much longer and looks much nicer when Danderine is used instead of water to "set" the wave.

Laxative For Baby That "Stays Down"

Baby's tiny system rebels against castor oil and strong purgatives; but here's a medicine that just suits him. And it does the work quickly and so gently that Baby doesn't feel it. Fletcher's Castoria is soothing, cross, fretful babies and children to sleep and making the feverish, constipated, upset ones well and happy, in millions of homes today. Castoria is purely vegetable, harmless and endorsed by the medical profession. Avoid imitations. The Chas. H. Fletcher signature marks genuine Castoria. Adv.

An Easier Way To Make Your
Out-of-town Calls

A NEW method of handling out-of-town telephone calls has been put into effect in Salem, East Palestine, Columbiana, Leetonia and New Waterford, to simplify the placing of such calls by our customers.

In the past, certain types of out-of-town calls have been handled by the local operators and others by the Long Distance operators. Under the new method it is no longer necessary for you to remember which is the proper way to place a call. Simply tell the local operator what place you wish to reach; as, "I wish to call Pittsburgh." She will either connect you herself, or say, "I will give you Long Distance."

As heretofore, you can reach distant places while you hold the line, if you furnish the number of the out-of-town telephone. If you do not know the number, call Long Distance Information and she gladly will get it for you.

Thus it is now almost as easy to reach a distant point as it is to call one of your neighbors.
